The best in toilet seat covers... a practical business consideration that saves time, money and builds goodwill.

No matter how well your restrooms are maintained, they can be an ideal environment for the growth of infectious germs and bacteria. People who must share toilet facilities with others have an unspoken desire to avoid contact with such a potential source of germs. People improvised seat covers made of paper towels or toilet paper that clog plumbing, cause litter and increase your expenses are clear evidence of this desire.
